

ELDERLY DRIVER ESCAPES INJURY FROM CAR CHASE

Seventy-year-old W. R. Smith, of York, had to crawl swiftly Saturday evening at 8:45 o'clock to avoid being hit by his own car about seven miles east of here along the Lincoln highway.

As state police explained the incident, Irvin L. Poe, 40, Chambersburg R. 5, was driving west along the highway when the gas tank of his truck ran dry. He was able to get the vehicle off the highway, turned on the parking lights and was in the process of switching in an auxiliary gas tank in order to continue his journey.

MISS RUCKER, R. B. HALL ARE WED SATURDAY

Miss Frances Mae Rucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy M. Rucker, Littlestown R. 2, and Ronald Bruce Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hall, 359 Parkam Rd., Springfield, Pa., were united in marriage on Saturday evening at 7 o'clock in St. Luke's Union Church, near White Hall. The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev.

Smith's car veered out into the highway, dumping Smith to the roadway. The car then, while Smith scrambled on hands and knees to get off the road, veered back to the north, went up an embankment, traveled in a circle through a plowed field, knocked down shrubbery and a cinder block pillar, the property of Robert G. Tichon, New Oxford R. 2, continued back onto the highway, crossed the highway, continued in a curve, and as Smith crawled for protection to the front of the truck, came back across the highway and smashed head-on into the side of the truck.

Had Smith remained where he had fallen on the highway his own car, after completing its swift circle off the road and back onto it would have run over him, police said.

Smith's car was completely demolished, with the officers estimating its value at $300. Damage to the 1954 Ford truck was estimated at $350.

The driver of the car was removed in the New Oxford ambulance to the Warner Hospital where he was treated for lacerations of the face and arms and contusions of the knee. Police said he had to crawl on the highway because shock from his injuries prevented him immediately standing after being thrown from the car.

Police said they will bring a charge of reckless driving against Smith.

BOY SCOUTS SEEK $870 TO REACH '58 GOAL

The Black Walnut Boy Scout District Saturday sent 500 letters to persons throughout Adams County asking donations to help make up a deficit of $870.

The formal annual drive wound up that amount short of its $5,800 goal, it was explained, and Attorney Daniel E. Teeter, finance chairman for the district, and William Lentz, fund drive chairman, said they hope to secure the additional amount through the letter campaign.

The deficit is more than the $870. Scout officials said today, but the annual drive is continuing in Arendtsville, Buchanan Valley, Littlestown and York Springs and an estimate was made for those areas in approximating the final shortage.

Vast expansion of the Scouting movement in the district makes it imperative that the Scout fund drive reach its goal this year, Attorney Teeter said. There are 750 boys and 300 adults in the 31 units in the district.

Anticipated additional new units now being established will bring the number of boys in Scouting in the district to 900 by the end of the year, Field Executive Stanley C. Rogers said.

Persons who may wish to contribute to the Scout program may send donations to either Attorney Teeter or Mr. Lentz.

FIRE DAMAGES SWINN GARAGE

Fire of undetermined origin Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock destroyed the garage at the rear of 27 E. Lincoln Ave., owned by Clarence M. Swinn.

Fire Chief Donald E. Staub said the blaze apparently started inside the building and badly charred the interior, then spread to the roof. Heat from the blaze blistered paint and melted composition shingles on the garage owned by Mrs. Rudolph Rosenstengel, across the alley from the burning structure.

Insurance adjusters held that the Swinn garage was "completely destroyed in that it cannot be repaired, but must be replaced," Mrs. Swinn said today.

The garage is part of a property owned by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Swinn, 31 E. Lincoln Ave., and tenanted by Dr. and Mrs. John G. Glenn. Dr. and Mrs. Glenn had been in the garage about an hour before the fire, when they drove their car out, leaving the doors of the garage open, and went to a local restaurant for dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Swinn were also absent at the time.

Richard Naugle and John Fox, among those earliest at the scene, said the fire seemed to be burning from ground level up, along the walls, when they arrived.

RESERVE UNIT WINS COMPANY HONORS AT GAP

Company A of the 313th Infantry Regiment, the Gettysburg Army Reserve unit, returned Saturday morning from Indian Gap Military Reservation where members of the unit had undergone 15 days of active duty training.

The local unit again took honors by being the "best company in the 313th Infantry Regiment," thus retaining the white streamer for the unit's garrison. Last year the unit captured the same honor and missed by one point being the best unit in the 79th Infantry Division. Competition this year was limited to within the regiments.

Company A's 35-man drill team took top honors in battalion and regimental competition, and placed second in the 79th Division competition, bowing to a military police drill team. Sfc. Terry R. Goodermuth, Gettysburg R. 3, is the team's drill master.

Other Awards Listed

Other awards and commendations were given to members of the unit Friday evening at a company party by 1st Lt. Robert W. Black, the unit's commander, and Lt. Col. Harry J. Ulrich, the 79th Division's first battalion commander.

Sfc. Gerald E. Brough, Bendersville, and Cpl. William E. Rupp, Aspers R. 1, were awarded plaques as leaders of the highest scoring teams in weapons firing in division competition.

SHOWERS CUT RECEIPTS FOR FIRE CARNIVAL

Rain on Friday and Saturday helped cut receipts at the Gettysburg Fire Department's Battle Anniversary festival by "about $6,000," officials said today.

The festival closed in a blaze of fireworks Saturday night. The scheduled display, an unusually large one, had been augmented by fireworks which had been dampened by the rain Friday night and could not be ignited at that time.

When the rain started to pour down about 10:30 o'clock Saturday night, the entire display was set off quickly, producing a most unusual exhibition of air bursts, ground displays etc., all in operation simultaneously.

Removing Equipment

Rain at the close of the parade July 4 and the several showers Saturday night were credited with cutting down receipts, but the firemen also noted during the week-long festival that while crowds were as large as usual "there wasn't the spending of recent years."

Part of the equipment set up for the festival was removed Sunday.

This evening, G. Robert Hartman, general chairman of the 95th Battle Anniversary committee said, firemen will meet at the Recreation field at 6:30 o'clock to complete removal of the temporary installations.

Goldfine Secretary's Hotel Room Burglarized; Hidden Mike Found; Records Gone

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bernard Goldfine's aides charged today that the hotel room of his secretary has been burglarized. This came atop discovery of a microphone placed in position to eavesdrop on conversations of the aides.

Jack Lott, a public relations man newly hired by Goldfine, said that bank records, correspondence, lists and documents had been taken from the room that the secretary, Miss Mildred Papernman, occupied. He said a report had been made to police.

Lotto said "We feel this burglary is a continuation of the Gestapo tactics being employed against Mr. Goldfine and his associates."

Was To Use Papers

Lotto said the missing papers were to have been used by Goldfine in his appearance Tuesday before the House committee investigating relations between the Boston Industrialist and White House aide Sherman Adams.

Lotto said Goldfine and his assistants don't know how much is missing and consequently can't say whether it will interfere with Goldfine's testimony.

The discovery of the microphone had already plunged the Adams-Goldfine investigation into a roaring controversy.

Huse Prober Involved
At the other end of the microphone wires was Baron I. Shacklette, chief investigator for the House subcommittee looking into relations between Goldfine and Sherman Adams. And with Shacklette was Jack Anderson, a legman for columnist Drew Pearson.

Chairman Cren Harris (D-Ark) called the committee into emergency session to weigh the fate of Shacklette. He said the bugging had not been authorized.

From the Goldfine camp, attorney Roger Robb fired a demand for under-oath examination of anyone who might know whether confidential data has been secured through such tactics.

FBI Investigating

Lotto said Robb had also complained to the FBI about the microphone and that the FBI was investigating.

Lotto said he himself has filed a complaint with the U.S. district attorney and asked the attorney whether his privacy has been violated by the microphone.

Lotto was registered for the room at which the microphone had been placed.

Miss Papernman was living in room 842 at the Sheraton-Carlton Hotel.

Lotto said she returned to her room about 10:30 p.m. Sunday night and went to bed.

At that time, she said, she closed a bolt in a door connecting with an adjoining room but thought nothing of it at the time. The adjoining room No. 844 had been occupied by a member of the Goldfine staff who was not there Sunday.

Calls In Reporters

Miss Papernman said she discovered the loss of the papers this morning when she went to a closet.

Lotto said sealed letters marked "personal" had been broken open. Lotto called reporters to a suite in the Statler Hotel to tell them his account of the missing papers.

Goldfine himself was reported by his aides to be still abed. They said he didn't get to bed until about 5 a.m. (EDT) because of the excitement over the microphone.

Makes Letter Public

Robb made public a letter to Harris saying these questions should be "answered in testimony under oath from all those having knowledge of the facts."

STORMS CAUSE POWER HALTS

Storm damage to Metropolitan Edison's electrical lines was scattered "here and there" throughout Friday, Saturday and Sunday. William Lentz, manager of the company, reported today. The worst interruption Lentz said was in McKnightstown Friday evening when power was off for approximately 40 minutes. Most of the calls reported individual power failures over the three-day period throughout the county.

John E. Caldwell, manager of the United Telephone Co. in Gettysburg, said there was considerable damage on Sunday due to rain getting into cables and shorting out lines. Sections of the Fairfield road were affected including the Pennsylvania State Police substation but their lines were back in service early Sunday evening.

The entire Barlow area was affected due to shotgun holes in a cable which allowed rain to draw in. Mr. Caldwell said it was not possible to determine when the cable was damaged by the gun shot because holes in the cable will not affect phone service immediately. Water soaking the wires during a heavy rain tell if a cable covering has been penetrated.

Fire Melts Covering

The garage fire Sunday afternoon behind Lincoln Ave. melted a lead cable covering allowing rain to soak wires and service was halted for several hours. The other cable mishap was reported in the Bendersville area which was caused by shorted wires due to rain. These are presently being repaired.

Damage to the Swope vehicle was $275 and to the Swartzbaugh car $500. There were no injuries.

Cautious driving by millions of home-bound motorists held the nation's July 4th weekend holiday traffic toll well below the pre-holiday estimate of 410.

Although late reports were expected to boost the total of dead somewhat, it appeared that the final count would be below the record toll forecast by the National Safety Council for a three-day holiday period.

Fatal highway mishaps got off to a fast start but tapered off commencing Saturday afternoon after early reports indicated the holiday would end with a new record of traffic dead.

The Safety Council attributed the lower death toll to energetic traffic enforcement and the shock of the skyrocketing death toll during the early hours of the holiday.

SENATORS POLL LEAGUE OWNERS ON SITE CHANGE

Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE (AP)—The recent shifting tides of major league baseball continue to roll today with the Washington Senators taking a sounding on their possible movement.

Calvin Griffith, president of the Senators, will ask the other American League owners how they feel about continuing to play in Washington.

Washington is last in the standings and more important to other operators last in attendance. Visiting teams are paid according to each ticket sold.

One Washington director claimed at the last board meeting that visiting teams barely make expenses. The directors instructed Griffith to ask the owners at their meeting in conjunction with the All-Star game their reaction to a move out of the nation's capital.

Minneapolis, Houston, Dallas and Toronto have been mentioned as likely new homes of the Senators.

An internal struggle has been going on the last couple of years over an itch for Washington to join the American League search for greener pastures. In the last four years, AL franchises have been moved from St. Louis to Baltimore and Philadelphia to Kansas City.

The National League joined the upheaval this year when the Dodgers and Giants were moved from New York to California.

The urge for change hasn't stopped there.

Both leagues, meeting separately, are expected to hear talk about expanding from 8 to 10 teams. In this connection, the National League will hear a report on an idea for New York City to build a stadium as a lure for return of a franchise.

American League sentiment for expansion does not seem favorable so far. However, if the two leagues decided and it is up to Commissioner Ford Frick, the move would be made.

FORMWALT REUNION

The annual reunion of the Lawrence Formwalt family will be held Sunday, July 13, at South Mountain Fairgrounds, Ardenville, in buildings 8 and 9.

"WONDERS OF A SMILE"

Like a burst of golden sunlight . . . warms this life with tender cheer . . . so a smile paints life with gladness . . . making sorrows disappear . . . as a rosebud gaily opens . . . to give splendor to the world . . . lips that know the art of smiling . . . are like buds of love unfurled . . . stardust dancing on still waters . . . is indeed like smiling eyes . . . they, like stars that roam the heavens . . . cause our waning hope to rise . . . like a godly magic magnet . . . smiles draw faith to those afraid . . . causing heavy hearts to lighten . . . so that they can make the grade . . . may each day be crowded with them . . . smiles make such a gracious host . . . so I end my verse about them . . . may they shine when needed most.

KILLS FOUR AND THEN SUICIDES

GLEN RIDGE, N. J. (AP)—A drug salesman, perhaps brooding over his mother's health, poisoned her and the three members of his immediate family Friday. Then he killed himself with a hypodermic injection.

Authorities said Thomas Mac Dowell, a drug company sales executive, apparently had let his Brazilian-born wife in on plans to wipe out his loved ones.

She, their two young sons, Mac Dowell and his mother were found dead in their modest home in this wealthy, suburban community. All but Mac Dowell were dressed in night clothes and were lying on beds.

"I am sorry for what I'm doing," said a note from Mac Dowell found on a living room desk.

"I love my wife and children dearly but I think in the long run they'll be better off."

The note asked God's forgiveness. But police would not say whether it gave any motive for the killings.

City Detectives Bruno V. Favasuli and E. A. McHaffie said the husband, Isaac Moore, 27, was killed during a quarrel at the Moore home Saturday afternoon. They said Mrs. Moore told them her husband had threatened her repeatedly in the past and that she was afraid of him.

FAMILY HOLDS REUNION IN OLD CEMETERY

WHAT WAS ONCE GARNETTSTOWN, Ky. (AP)—"I guess it is a little unique to have a reunion in a cemetery," H. D. Higbee said.

"But it's about the only time we ever get to see each other," Higbee, a 51-year-old iron shop worker at Louisville, and about 150 other folks who once lived in the small village of Garnettstown got together Sunday at the burial grounds for their annual reunion.

The 10-acre cemetery is the only land they retained.

What do people talk about in a cemetery?

Old friends, old times, those who have passed on and the future generation, says Higbee.

Like some of the others present, he said he thought back to his boyhood days.

Some Business

He also shared the surprise of meeting a family which hadn't been heard from since Garnettstown disappeared.

Just recently the family read about the reunion in a newspaper and decided to attend.

Some of the reunion is taken up by business. There's the matter of a fund to keep the cemetery in shape.

Everyone contributes as the need arises.

Trailer Is Scalped Under Low Viaduct

DETROIT (AP)—Marcel Guilbeault, 20, Belle River, Ont., was driving his tractor trailer peacefully through Detroit Sunday until he came to a viaduct.

The viaduct has a 12-foot clearance. Guilbeault's trailer was 12 feet 6 inches.

Guilbeault rolled forward and got stuck under the viaduct. He stepped on the gas and made it through but peeled off the top six inches of the trailer on the way.

He returned to Windsor, Ont., for a new trailer.

3 SURVIVORS OF SEA TRAGEDY FOUGHT SHARKS

HONOLULU (AP)—Three survivors of the C124 Air Force transport plane which went down early Friday in mid-Pacific returned here Sunday night to tell of fighting off a school of sharks before they were rescued.

Nine were aboard the plane. One body was recovered and five others are missing and presumed drowned.

Returning here on the aircraft carrier Boxer, which picked up the three survivors 200 miles northeast of Johnston Island, Capt. Jonathan W. Brown, the plane's commander, told newsmen: "One of the sharks got a good hold on me and was shaking me."

Beat On Shark's Head

"We were pounding the water and yelling and thrashing and kicking around. I was beating on the shark's head with my fist. He finally let go. There were several of them around and they swam away."

He said they apparently were put off somewhat by shark repellent from the men's lifejackets and by all the noise.

Returning with Brown were T. Sgt. James M. Phillips, Vacaville, Calif., and S. Sgt. James P. Vanderee, San Rafael, Calif. Both were navigators on the big craft, which was on a flight from Travis Air Force Base in California to Tokyo with a crew of seven plus two military couriers picked up in Hawaii. Brown, who comes from Sioux City, Iowa, lives at Travis AFB, northeast of San Francisco.

Minor Cuts, Burns

Brown, Phillips and Vanderee all had minor cuts, gasoline burns and stains from shark repellent. Brown had a minor shark bite on his left shoulder.

They were taken to the Army's Tripler General Hospital for treatment.

Brown said the big Globemaster ditched 200 miles this side of Johnston Island after the No. 3 engine began backfiring and threw its propeller through the fuselage, cutting off all electric power and communications and crippling all controls except the rudder and elevator. The right wing dipped and the plane broke up into sections as it hit the water.

"It went under immediately. I came up through a hole right above me," Brown said.

CARTER, VALDES ON WEEK'S CARD

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Harold Carter hopes to make another move toward an eventual meeting with heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson by hurling over Cuban Nino Valdes in a Wednesday fight at Spokane, Wash.

The methodical Carter whipped Willie Beamanoff June 13 in his first scrap after 18 months in the Army. He is rated No. 5 contender by the National Boxing Association and No. 9 by Ring.

Valdes, 33, is almost 10 years older than Carter. After losing a split decision to Alex Miteff in February, the big fellow from Havana has won three straight from Wayne Bethea, Mike DeJohn and Johnny Summerlin.

The 10-round match will be carried on ABC-television from the Spokane Coliseum.

Walters Fight Friday

Mickey Crawford and Gaspar Ortega, two welters with an idea of mixing with Virgil Atkins, the new champion, fight Friday at Madison Square Garden in a match that could revise the 147-pound ratings.

Ortega lost to Ralph Dupas and beat Bob Torrance in his two 1958 appearances. Ring ranks him No. 2 but the NBA listed him No. 7.

Crawford who has won 22 of 24 pro fights is unbeaten this year with victories over Andy Figaro, Gil Turner, Tex Gonzales and Chico Vejar. Crawford is No. 4 with the NBA, No. 9 with Ring.

The Garden fight will be carried on NBC radio-TV.

New Controls Will Speed Launchings

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—An advanced control system designed to handle more launchings at a smoother pace has been installed at the Air Force missile test center.

It was reported that the new system will be capable of directing the lengthy countdowns for three missiles simultaneously. Up to now it was feasible to control only one launching at a time.

The new equipment also will eliminate many of the long delays during the preliminary check-out of a missile prior to launching, officials said.

Frushour in his report submitted to the county school board on the status of general repairs to school buildings noted that two basement rooms in the Emmitsburg school have been modernized with acoustical ceilings, replastered walls, repaired windows, boxed in plumbing and tiled floors, book shelving and cabinets have been constructed and blackboards and blackboards have been replaced.

Also, the old wing of the Emmitsburg school has been rewired with fluorescent lights, the fixtures being transferred from the Elm Street School, a modern addition demonstration desk has been added to the high school science room, the outside of the building and six classrooms have been painted and three sink cabinets have been installed in the elementary rooms.

MISHAP HALTS HAWAIIAN RAFT

SAN PEO, Calif. (AP)—The raft Lehi IV is tied up at a boat works today, awaiting another start on its projected voyage to Hawaii.

Skipper Devere Baker has several plans in mind. He may have the raft towed to Santa Catalina Island, 22 miles off the coast, and there arrange for another tow to a point 150 or 200 miles westward where he can pick up currents favorable for drifting Hawaiiward.

Baker and his four crewmen started Saturday from nearby Redondo Beach. Four miles out the towline broke. The raft poked a hole, above the waterline, in the towing cruiser.

Shakedown For Raft

The Hawaii cruise is merely a shakedown for the raft, Baker said. At Honolulu, the raft will be shipped by freighter to the Persian Gulf. From there Baker plans to drift across the Indian and Pacific oceans to the Western Hemisphere. Three earlier ventures were failures.

PLAN CARNIVAL AT DICKS DAM

Final preparations are being made by committees of the Dicks Dam Welfare Association for the first water carnival on the Conewago Creek, planned for Sunday, July 13. If rain intereferes, the carnival will be postponed to the following Sunday.

Activities will start at 2 p.m. with a colorful water parade of floats and decorated motorboats. Starting at the cottage of H. V. Jordan, about a quarter-mile above the bridge, the parade will move down stream past the Leroy Rodgers woods, formerly Dicks woods, to the cottage of Mrs. Nicholas Murphy, about a half-mile beyond the woods. Then the procession will return to its starting point.

Following the parade, water events will feature ballet swimming, swimming contests for various age groups, canoe and boat races and novelty water events. Entries will be received immediately prior to each event. Lists of events are being mailed to organizations in this area this week.

The entire waterfront at Rodgers' woods, near the bridge, will be the site for viewing the activities. Parking of automobiles will take place there also. Food and refreshment stands will be set up and cake walks will be conducted.

The committees in charge are headed by Gertrude S. Smith as general chairman.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

The anniversary of the Declaration of Independence passed off very quietly in our Borough. It was ushered in by ringing of bells, firing of cannon, parade of The Blues, besides a considerable amount of shooting on individual account. There was no general celebration during the day; but a number of parties were out picnicking and passing the time in other pleasant ways. Not an unpleasant incident occurred during the day or night, so far as we have heard.

On Friday evening week, the barn on the farm of the heirs of Wm. McPherson, Esq., deceased, near town, was struck by lightning and entirely consumed. There were five loads of hay put in the barn on that day, which was all the loss, independent of the building, which was not very valuable.

Mr. Danner, our County Treasurer, paid into the State Treasury in the beginning of last week the full quota of our County's State Tax. He was the first "on the turf" as has been the custom of our County — leading the other counties of the State.

We learn with regret that Capt. Buehler has resigned the captaincy of the "Independent Blues." The fine military bearing of the Captain, together with the deep interest he took in his affairs, was pleasant even to us folks who are "out of the muster-roll." We have not heard what reasons have led to this determination on his part; but we think it cannot but operate to the disadvantage of the Company.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The Fourth-Fire-Jail Escape: The "Fourth" in Gettysburg was hot and sultry and the town comparatively quiet during the earlier part of the day. There were numerous small pic-nic parties while those who remained sought relief from the heat indoors or in shady places. The Town Council suspended the ordinance against fireworks after 8 a. m. and from that time on the boys took advantage of it to explode crackers and pistols. The parade of the Waynesboro Hook and Ladder Company with their band, in the forenoon, enlivened the streets for awhile.

At two o'clock p. m. there was an alarm of fire arising from the discovery that the roof of the two-story frame residence of Wm. T. Ziegler, opposite the college, was on fire. In a short time the entire roof was in a blaze and it looked as if the entire building was doomed. A number of citizens went to work with a will. There being no regular fire organization, there was the usual confusion and waste of effort, but with efficient, intelligent work was done, the result being that the building was saved, although the entire roof was burnt off. The origin of the fire is unknown, but as it was first seen on the north-west corner of the roof, remote from the only chimney in use, it is supposed to have been started by fire-crackers lodged on the roof. Mr. Ziegler is fully insured in the Adams county company. The damage to furniture was adjusted at $75 and to the building $350.

About 8 p. m. another commotion was occasioned by the announcement that two prisoners had escaped from the jail. They had dug a hole through one of the cells into the jailyard and then passed into the dwelling and escaped through the kitchen while the family were sitting in front of the dwelling.

Some boys saw the prisoners crossing the fields in the rear of the jail and gave the alarm. Officer M. L. Culp mounted a horse and tracked the prisoners along the Littlestown pike, but lost all trace of them at Two Taverns. He went on to within three miles of Littlestown, when concluding that he had got ahead of the fugitives, he dismounted, tied his horse and waited by the roadside. About 11 o'clock the prisoners made their appearance. Officer Culp called a halt which one obeyed but the other started on a run down the

TAKE THE PLUNGE

Most of us are bothered by decisions that come up so often for action. Men of decision, however, are the ones who rule the world. I spent a summer at a boys' camp many years ago. It was a lot of fun to be associated for two weeks with a group of such fine lads. Every morning we would go to the boat landing wharf and take a plunge into the cold water of the lake. The cold sometimes gave you a small shiver, but after the plunge you felt warm and wonderful.

I wrote this incident up soon after leaving the place, and the brief article was printed. In a few days I received a very grateful letter from a prominent politician. He said he had debated an idea in his mind for a long time, but when he read my suggestion about taking a plunge, and having it over, he did just that and by doing it in his case it worked!

Nothing is ever quite so unpleasant, or so full of fear, as we think it to be. Continually we ought to face every emergency in life with courage, confidence and faith. You will learn that making the decision to do a certain thing is the most difficult. In such a case the sooner you make it, the better!

Many a fortune has had its inception in a carefully worked out idea or plan and then making a definite decision to put it all to the test — in a daring plunge! We feel better immediately after deciding to take the plunge and risk all.

The young men or girls who leave their small-town homes for the larger risks and thrills of the big city take a plunge very new to them, but if they have never bartered their integrity and ideals for a mass of potage there will be no need to worry about them.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Look for the Good"

IT SOMETIMES HAPPENS

His wife's away and every night
We see him coming down the street.

The same time that he always does

When she's at home to cook

He sits upon his porch till nine
And then goes silently to bed;

It sometimes happens man does this

In spite of all that has been said.

Before he leaves the house at morn

He waters every plant and

He feeds the bird and mows the

And works around for half an hour;

And through the windows we can see

Him washing dishes every day;
It sometimes happens that a man

Will do these things when she's away.

When she comes home, she'll find the place

As neat as when she went away;

No dirt, dishes will she see,
No room will be in disarray.

Battle-Field Memorial Association: The annual meeting of the Gettysburg Battle-Field Memorial Association was held on Monday of last week. The Executive committee submitted their annual report which shows among other things that during the past year the Association has purchased several important portions of the field in the neighborhood of "Round Top" and on the "Wheat Field" and a portion of "Culp's Hill" with an adjoining tract of land including "Spangler's Spring." The association now owns 240 acres of land and including "Crawford's Glen" the title to which is in Gen. S. Wylie Crawford, but which is under its care, 280 acres of the most interesting portions of the great battle-field.

The total expenditures during the year for purchase of lands, work on avenue, map of field and other items, amount to $7,913.63 and the receipts, including balance on hand at last settlement, $7,975.01.

END OF AN ERA
MAY BE NEAR AT HARRISBURG ON JOBS AT HOME

By LEONARD A. UNGER

HARRISBURG (AP) — The end of an era could be in the making for legislators who also hold public jobs back home.

The first legal crack in the dike was a recent Washington County Court decision. It ruled that one man can't be both a state senator and a county commissioner at the same time.

The edict was somewhat academic because Sen. William J. Lane (D-Washington) resigned as county commissioner during a furore that he had been drawing county expenses at a time he was in Harrisburg.

Grumbling To Roar

For many years, legislators have felt it was all right to hold a public office in their hometowns. And there was little grumbling in the view of the fact that a lawmaker's salary was $3,000 for a two-year term.

But that grumbling has become a roar in many counties since the income of a legislator has been jumped to $12,000 for two years of service.

Instead of being a sideline for some politicians, the lawmaking job has become the principal source of income for many. In fact, an even dozen assemblies list "legislature" as their occupation in the official state manual.

Annual Sessions Likely

The part-time aspect of lawmaking—the average session has run about five or six months in a biennium although recent sessions were longer—will be removed when Pennsylvania goes into annual sessions, a likely prospect.

Returning to Lane's status, it was as recently as five years ago that three county commissioners served in the state senate. In addition to Lane, they were G. Graybill Diehm (R-Lancaster) and John M. Walker (R-Allegheny).

Diehm and Walker are still county commissioners. Diehm is Senate secretary but not an actual member. Walker is an actual member. Walker is the Republican candidate for lieutenant governor.

The legislature is the sole judge under the constitution on the seating of its own members. But the Washington County decision sets a precedent on whether legislators can hold elective office.

Question Of Compatibility

Gov. Leader was a justice of the peace in York County while serving as a state senator prior to his election as governor. Rep. William G. Piper (R-Berks) is a justice of the peace.

Sen. Frank Kopriver (R-Allegheny) is mayor of Duquesne, a third class city. Rep. Laurence V. Gibb (R-Allegheny) was elected a tax collector and Rep. Leo J. McLaughlin (D-Allegheny) an assessor in their respective hometowns.

Rep. Jules Pilo (D-Allegheny) serves as superintendent of Pittsburgh's city morgue.

The question raised by the Lane decision is whether these local offices are compatible with the office of legislator. There hasn't been a single piece of legislation in recent years on which any of these dual officers has disqualified himself because of a possible conflict of interest.

PLAN TO END STRIKE UP TO GUILD TODAY

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A proposal aimed at ending the five-week-old strike of the American Newspaper Guild against the morning Inquirer goes before the Guild membership today.

Negotiators for the Guild and the Inquirer agreed on the proposal Sunday after 10 days of subcommittee meetings, federal negotiators said.

Details of the proposal were not announced. Neither of the parties involved would comment.

Make Announcement

Federal mediators released the following announcement yesterday: "Out of the subcommittee meetings held for the past 10 days, there has developed a proposal of a settlement of a strike by the Newspaper Guild of Greater Philadelphia against the Inquirer."

"This proposal will be presented to the membership Monday, July 7 at 2 p. m. (EDT)."

Robert Donnanah, chief federal mediator, later issued a statement amending the first announcement to read that the proposal would be "presented for the action of the membership."

Truck Drivers Idle

If the Guild votes to accept the proposal and end the strike, normal distribution of the city's two major newspapers would be resumed.

The Inquirer Guild unit, representing some 700 editorial and clerical workers, struck the newspaper June 1 when its contract expired.

The dispute reportedly was over wages and a job security clause in the contract.

Truck drivers of the Inquirer and the Bulletin, who are members of Teamsters Local 626, have not resumed delivery of either paper.

VFW WILL ASK
TEST FOR LAW

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will be asked to approve a resolution calling for a constitutional test of a law under which the government deducts disability pensions from veterans' social security payments.

State Commander William J. Tepsic said Sunday: "If a veteran is entitled to $66.15 disability social security payment, and a Veterans Administration pension of $66.15, the Veterans Administration pension is deductible from the Social Security payment."

"Veterans are unable to understand how the government can virtually confiscate social security payments that are his old-age insurance paid for by himself and his employer. The government contributes nothing to his social security, yet the law takes part of it to reduce the cost to government of traditional disability pensions granted veterans."

Tepsic said the resolution will be introduced at the state convention which gets under way in Pittsburgh Thursday.

None of the men were seriously ill, Taylor said, and most recovered within two or three days.

REST HURLERS FOR ALL-STAR PLAY TUESDAY

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Bob Turley of the New York Yankees and Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves today were named starting pitchers for Tuesday's 25th All-Star baseball game.

The choice of Spahn was a surprise because the American League starting lineup contained only two left-handed batters.

Turley's choice was expected.

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — For the first time in recent years, the managers of the All-Star baseball teams will have a stable of well-rested starting pitchers.

None of the 15 pitchers (eight in the National and seven in the American) slated for Tuesday's silver anniversary game started Sunday games. A few years back, it seemed everybody on the roster worked on the final day of regular play.

Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees, perennial boss of the Americans, sounded off last year at St. Louis when he learned pitchers he wanted to use weren't available.

Chooses Own Pitchers

Old Case picked three men off his own Yankee staff this year. He was able to see to it that Bob Turley, top man in the majors with a 12-3 record, didn't pitch since beating Washington Friday with a three-hitter.

Manager Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves, who heads the Nationals, also has been close-mouthed about his pitching selections. However, he leaned toward Bob Friend of Pittsburgh. Friend beat Milwaukee Saturday for his 10th victory.

The preponderance of right-handed hitters in the starting lineups, selected by the players' votes, makes it desirable to start a right-handed pitcher on each side.

Lean To Right-Handers

Stengel, whose Americans are favored 13-10, has Early Wynn of Chicago, Ray Narleski of Cleveland and his own relief man, Ryne Duren, as other right-handers. For left-handed hitters, he has southpaw Whitey Ford of the Yanks, Billy Pierce of Chicago and Billy O'Dell of Baltimore.

Haney has right-handers Bob Purkey of Cincinnati, who was used briefly in relief Sunday, Larry Jackson of St. Louis, Don McMahon of Milwaukee and Dick Farrell of Philadelphia, in addition to Friend.

Jackson started early in the year but has been used only on relief lately. MacMahon and Farrell are relief pitchers. His left-handers are his own Warren Spahn, Johnny Podres of Los Angeles and Johnny Antonelli of San Francisco.

Stan Musial of St. Louis, playing his 15th All-Star Game, and Bob Skinner of Pittsburgh are the only left-handed batters in the National's starting lineup. Nelson Fox of Chicago and switch-hitting Mickey Mantle of the Yanks are the American lefties against right-handers.

The American League holds a 14-10 edge in the series.

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Binghamton ended first half play in the Eastern League in grand style Sunday, defeating its closest all-league rival, York, 9-2 and 4-1. Both teams won their division titles for the first time.

The Triplets displayed the combination of tight pitching and timely hitting that enabled them to win the league's Northern Division title in the first half of the season with an impressive 45-27 record. York, pace-setter in the Southern Division, had a 39-28 record.

The second half begins tonight. At the end of the season the four Northern and Southern Division titleholders will play off for the Richardson Cup.

Leigh Lawrence gave up only four hits to win the opener and Bill Stafford won the nightcap with a seven-hitter.

Lawrence's effort was eased considerably by Leory Thomas who belted his 11th and 12th home runs of the season in the first game. Thomas' five RBI put him in undisputed possession of the league's lead in that department.

Lancaster experienced the frustration of scoring five times in a big eighth inning to tie the Albany at 6-6, but then lost when the Senators scored in the last frame. The second game of a scheduled doubleheader was postponed by rain.

Rain also washed out the second contest between Williamsport and Reading after Reading won the opener 3-2, on Jim Perry's five-hit pitching.

In games Saturday night, Lancaster whipped Albany, 15-4, and Springfield routed Allentown, 12-1, in twin bills cut short by rain. Other contests were postponed by showers.

Gettysburg Big League

Swope's Aero swept both ends of a double-header Saturday afternoon on the college diamond to move into first place in the Big League standings. In the first game Swope's edged the Towne Restaurant 5-2 in eight innings then came back to walloop the VFW 10-5 in the nightcap.

Swope's has now won five in a row since their loss to the VFW on June 19. Out of the five wins, the first place outfit downed the VFW twice.

A single by Walmer and doubles

by Dolly and Mitchell accounted for the Towne's two runs in the second and third frames. Swope's scored once in the third and fifth to knot the count.

In the seventh inning, Dolly blasted a tremendous blow to deep center for what would have been a home run and the winning score for the Towne, but the umpires called the hitter out for failing to touch third base. Swope's then went on the tally three times in the top of the eighth to register the win.

Earl Walmer was the big man in the Towne line-up as he chipped in with a pair of safeties. Wright pitched a good game striking out

10 batters and allowing five walks.

In the second game the VFW scored their five runs in the first two innings to take a 5-3 lead, but

Swope's drove in four in the third, two more in the fourth and their final run in the sixth to win the game running away.

Lockbaum and Mummert paced

the VFW hitters and a two hits each while the pitching assignment was divided among Asper, H.

King was the leading batter for Swope's Aero belting out five hits in early trips to the plate. Dick

Hartzell poked out a home run, triple, double and single for a per-

Compromise Religious Program To Be Tried In Omaha Schools

By BILL W. DEAN

OMAHA (AP) — Next fall suburban Westside High School will give another trial to a compromise religious program falling somewhere in between "released time" and no official public school recognition whatever of religion.

Under the "released time" formula, schools frequently allow students to spend one hour of school time a week studying religion at classes held by Protestant, Jewish and Roman Catholic organizations off the school premises.

Development of the procedure has been studded with friction in and out of courts, with opposition based on claims it encroaches on the traditional separation of church and state.

The Westside System
Since a Supreme Court decision in 1962 upholding it, however, the method has become increasingly popular, with an estimated 3½ million pupils taking part. Much of the program's growth has occurred in the Eastern states.

The compromise system at Westside has cleared the way for some religious training for its students and at the same time won praise for firmly maintaining separation of church and state. It works this way: Wednesday is "church day" at Westside, a rambling school in a rapidly growing Omaha area. There are services in nearby churches before classes and Westside teachers are asked to keep Wednesday evenings free of activity. They are also asked to keep Thursdays free of tests that would require Wednesday night study.

"What we are doing is being sure that there is one day a week that students will have a chance to attend their own religious activities if they want to," Supt. C. L. Retelsdorf explains. "We are being very careful that we are not participating in what the churches do with that time."

Worked Out Plan
The Rev. Robert Hupp of Christ the King Catholic Church, about a block away, originally had asked school authorities for released time. School authorities turned down the request. Later, meeting with a group of ministers, they agreed on the present plan.

A relatively few Catholic youngsters are taking advantage of a 7:45 a.m. communion service on Wednesdays. Better attended, reports Father Hupp, is an evening

WOULD RESTORE SHAD FISHING IN SUSQUEHANNA

HARRISBURG (AP) — William Voigt, executive director of the State Fish Commission, today hailed a new study set up to see what can be done to restore shad fishing on the upper reaches of the Susquehanna River.

The study, financed by a $75,000 grant from the Philadelphia Electric Co., is designed to examine intensively the life habits of the shad and striped bass.

These fish have been blocked in their spawning attempts up river by the construction of power dams, owned by Philadelphia Electric, near the Maryland-Pennsylvania line.

"Perhaps too much emphasis has been given in the past to the engineering problem of building fishways to get shad around the dams that now block their journey upstream at spawning time," Voigt said.

Questions To Be Answered
"The advisory board set up last spring by Philadelphia Electric—on which the Pennsylvania Fish Commission is represented—is attacking the basics on this question."

He said these "basics" concern the life habits of the fish. What food do shad prefer? How do they behave as young fish? As mature fish?

"And, perhaps most important of all," continued Voigt, "the question to be answered is whether the condition of the Susquehanna River is ideal for their grandpappies and great-grandpappies is good enough for the current crop of shad."

Says State Frills Up School Costs

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Dr. Alfred W. Beattie, Allegheny County superintendent of schools, says the cost of building classrooms is soaring because of unnecessary frills insisted upon by the state.

Beattie gave as an example running water in each high school classroom and in three of four elementary classrooms. He said: "Just think of the extra cost of plumbing and fixtures that this will mean, the additional digging for pipelines and so on."

discussion session aimed primarily at providing religious instruction. He says attendance has been around 65 or 70.

At Westside Community Church, next door to the high school, several Protestant churches rotate the responsibility of offering a 7:45 a.m. Wednesday morning religious service.

The Congregationalist minister of the church, the Rev. Roger Manners, reports attendance has been light at this inter-denominational service.

NAME MATEOS PRESIDENT OF MEXICO SUNDAY

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Handsome, 48-year-old Adolfo Lopez Mateos, the brilliant labor minister in the last government, was elected president of Mexico Sunday in probably the quietest vote in the nation's history.

The dominant government Party of Revolutionary Institution (PRI) claimed Lopez Mateos had won by a landslide—somewhere between 70 and 85 per cent of the votes. No big totals were announced, however.

Lopez Mateos' victory over textile manufacturer Luis Hector Alvarez had never been in doubt. The PRI and its predecessors have never lost an election since the parent party was launched in 1928.

New Congress Too
Mexico also elected a full new Congress of 60 senators and 162 deputies. The PRI claimed that it had retained control by an overwhelming majority.

There were prospects, however, the new Congress may contain more than the nine opposition deputies it now holds. Only one serious incident was reported, during an argument over a local election in Ciudad Obregon, on the west coast. A voter was killed and a soldier injured during a fight.

Women voted for the first time in a presidential election.

Allege Fraud
Opposition parties began filing protests of alleged election fraud before the polls closed. But generally the election seemed to have been conducted on democratic lines. The PRI had invited foreign observers from the United States and South America to come see for themselves.

Official returns will not be known for a week. Unofficial returns may be made known Tuesday or later.

Lopez Mateos will succeed President Adolfo Ruiz Cortines for a six-year term beginning next Dec. 1. He is considered a bit more liberal than his predecessor, but is expected to continue most programs of the current administration, which selected him as its successor.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of our troubles is that we can't see through Premier Khrushchev's head. He extends a friendly hand one minute, a fist the next. But we don't know what he has up his sleeve.

A great many Americans have tried to analyze the meaning of the recent on-again-off-again Soviet tactics. But this writer hasn't seen or heard of one explanation yet that looks foolproof.

It's possible the Soviets' sudden reversals in recent months—from nice to nasty to nice—are the product of simple bumbling and stumbling in foreign policy or of internal Communist party conflicts hidden from sight.

Can Only Guess

It's also possible the Soviets don't care much what they do or say from month to month so long as they keep a couple of balls in the air, make propaganda, and keep stalling on disarmament or finding ways to prevent surprise attacks.

What Khrushchev has in mind for 3, or 5, or 10 years from now for the United States is something we can only guess at. And in this contest guessing carries a chilly feeling.

For, through all the shifting gears of the Kremlin one gruesome thought persists: Is Khrushchev stalling until he feels strong enough to wipe us out with a surprise attack? That's possible too. It's almost certain neither side is going to talk seriously about disarmament, and for various reasons. One is enough: so long as both are heavily armed each has a measure of safety from attack by the other.

But how much safety from surprise attack each has is something only the top men on both sides know. It would seem to behoove this country to keep its defenses A-1 for years to come.

An individual in this country who tried to make perfect sense out of all the Soviet twists, following them down the dark alleys of the mind, could wind up in a loony bin. An example is given near the end of this story.

This year, after spending months building up propaganda for a summit meeting, or appearing to do so, Khrushchev all but knocked the idea of a summit conference out the window. The same with the Geneva talks, where American and Communist scientists are now discussing ways to prevent cheating if there is agreement against further nuclear testing. At the last minute the Soviets seemed to be scuttling the meeting. Then they sent their scientists to Geneva.

And Khrushchev this past week, after practically torpedoing a summit conference, proposed to President Eisenhower technical talks on how to prevent surprise attacks. He failed to acknowledge that Eisenhower himself had proposed this last January.

Khrushchev knows what this country wants to prevent surprise attack: a good inspection system. But Sunday Pravda, right on the heels of Khrushchev's proposal, made a joke of any inspection system.

ROLLER COASTER IN ANDES MARKS ANNIVERSARY

By LARRY ALLEN
QUITO, Ecuador (AP)—Ecuador is celebrating the 50th anniversary of the "Andean roller coaster," a railroad that provides an exciting ride.

The 287-mile line links this capital city, over 9,000 feet up in the towering Andes, with the bustling port of Guayaquil on the Pacific. Its completion 50 years ago marked a turning point in the unification of this republic by opening a vast territory for agricultural and industrial development.

President's Dream
It was long the dream of Eloy Alfaro, Ecuador's president at the turn of the century.

Two Virginians, the brothers Archer and John Harman, made the dream come true after British financiers put up 17 million dollars. Archer Harman was a financier and his brother a military engineer. They had to construct much of the line in a zig-zag course, and build many tunnels and bridges to get around the Andean peaks ranging from 14,000 to 26,000 feet.

A few years ago, 36 hours were required to make the trip, with frequent changes of engines. Improved equipment has cut the time to 11 hours.

Route Described
Passenger trains leave Quito at 7 a.m., and arrive in Guayaquil at 6 p.m.

First stop is Latacunga. Nearby are the volcano of Cotopaxi, 19,613 feet, and peaks capped with eternal snows. Cotopaxi marks the first crossing of the Andes. This bleak and cold region is the land of the largest living bird, the condor.

The next station, Ambato, is situated in a rich agricultural region at an altitude of 8,431 feet. It is the center of vegetable and fruit production.

Highest Elevator
Riobamba shows up next after a gradual climb to the highest point on the line at Urbina Pass—11,841 feet.

After Riobamba, the train goes over narrow gorges and through many tunnels. Before reaching Huigra, it climbs the famous Nariz del Diablo—Devil's Nose—a perpendicular ridge rising out of the gorge of the Chanchan River to 1,000 feet.

This almost insurmountable engineering obstacle was finally conquered when a series of switchbacks was built on a 5½ per cent grade.

Steady Descent
There's a steady descent after the train recrosses the Chanchan River, creeping along a narrow ledge between mountains and canyons.

From the base of the Andes, a long stretch of flat inundated lowland leads toward Guayaquil.

ROYER'S OPENS AT THURMONT

Royer's Restaurant, announced as the newest and finest restaurant in this locality, is located at the intersection of routes 15 and 81 at Thurmont, Md.

The large structure is of form-stone and glass, has a spacious parking area surrounding the building which has an attractive outside planting area.

Many of the neighboring folk and a large number of tourists were served June 22 when the doors were opened for the first day. July 8 has been set as the date for the formal opening. A record number of diners is expected in addition to the unusually large number of tourists served daily. A handsome door prize will be awarded to some lucky guest. Free refreshments will be served to all who visit on this day.

In addition to the central dining area and counter seats which surround the fountain, there is a large banquet room which is already popular for parties and civic groups. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Royer Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. John Royer are the new owners and operators. They are in attendance daily to greet their guests and to supervise the service and preparation of excellent food.

The restaurant is opened daily from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. In addition to breakfast and lunch, platters and full-course dinner are served. Famous Hillside turkeys, old-fashioned country ham and Maryland style fried chicken are among the favorites on the complete and varied menu.

Mayer, a supper club entertainer, and Mrs. Person, a former Rocky Mount, N.C., radio entertainer, were the last of six players who started the keyboard marathon Thursday morning.

The players got five-minute breaks every two hours until 1 p.m. Saturday, then 10-minute breaks.

Judges called it a tie and awarded Mrs. Person and Mayer each a $500 piano.

EXPECT COOPER TO BECOME PRO

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Ashley Cooper, 21-year-old Australian, won the men's singles title at the Wimbledon lawn tennis championship—and left everybody wondering how long it would be before he turned pro.

That's how the 72nd Wimbledon Tournament ended Saturday. Most experts believed that if Cooper added the American title to his Australian and Wimbledon crown, then professional impresario Jack Kramer would immediately try to attract Cooper into the professional ranks.

Over recent years Kramer has skimmed the cream off the amateur game. Australia's Frank Sedgman, Ken Rosewall, Lew Hoad and Rex Hartwig and Tony Trabert of Cincinnati all have quit the amateur game for the gold of the pros.

DEATHS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

PEEKSKILL, N. Y. (AP)—

Martha Boswell Lloyd, 53, a member of the popular Boswell Sisters singing trio in the 1930s, died Wednesday. She underwent a kidney operation last March and complications necessitated further surgery last week. She was born in New Orleans.

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Harry W. Holmes, 79, retired Oberlin College chemistry professor and a former president of the American Chemical Society, died Tuesday of lung cancer. He was nationally known for research, chiefly in colloid chemistry. He was born in Lawrence County, Pa.

In Fourth Of Nation's Homes Both Hubby And Wife Have Jobs

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't read his mail:

That for 28 per cent of the country's estimated 39 million married couples, both husband and wife have jobs outside the home. The tired business woman may soon outnumber the tired business man.

That this is the century of the common dog as well as the common man. America's pooch population has leaped 44 per cent in the last decade.

That the Romans were the first people to use silver widely as money.

Bugs Beat Million

That U. S. insect pests nullify the labor of at least one million workers a year.

That music is really getting specialized. The owner of the Mermaid Caverns at Stanton, Mo., has hired Dr. Edmund Spaeth to make selections of "music to be listened to in a cave."

That a survey showed 15 million American women are overweight. The rest just think they are.

That a new fad has cropped up in the college set—eating lighted cigarettes. Well, anyway they're Harvard Men Bigger.

That a recent study showed the average Harvard freshman is half an inch taller than the average Yale freshman. But then Yale has never been the same since it lost Frank Merriwell.

That bandleader Sammy Kaye during his career has given away 250,000 souvenir batons. So-o-o-o, wouldn't you know, he is being honored by the National Lumber Manufacturers Assn.

That, according to the Fisherman's Magazine, a fish has such a poorly developed nervous system it feels no great pain when hooked.

That some 40 million American are.

That no ship is launched on Friday because of a sailor superstition to do so would bring bad luck.

Complaints On Sacks
That this is the newest definition of a witch: "A flying sorceress."

That a New York hotel has been forced to abandon its experiment of having the waitresses wear sack dress uniforms. . . . Both the waitresses and the patrons complained.

That Dr. Carlton Fredericks, the nutritionist, says licorice is an excellent natural substitute for tranquilizer pills.

That a new fad has cropped up in the college set—eating lighted cigarettes. Well, anyway they're Harvard Men Bigger.

That, according to the Fisherman's Magazine, a fish has such a poorly developed nervous system it feels no great pain when hooked.

That some 40 million American women today are said to make all or part of their clothing. If this is so, where are they hiding?

That Mamie Eisenhower, a good hand at canasta, now prefers a faster-playing version of the game called Bolivia.

That an elephant is happier when traveling by air if a hen is perched on its head. But the average man would rather have a chick on his arm.

That litterbug motorists tossed about 100,000 tons of debris on the nation's highway over the holiday weekend. Most popular item: the beer can.

Emerson Said It
That Wyoming has a town named Dull Center. And New Mexico has one called Stinging Lake.

That a hummingbird's heart beats 615 times a minute.

That seven out of every 100 U.S. school children have below normal hearing.

That it was Ralph Waldo Emerson who observed: "This time, like all times, is a very good one—if we but knew what to do with it."

Air Parcel Limits Greatly Liberalized

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield announced today that size and weight limitations on air parcels to overseas military post offices have been greatly liberalized effective July 1.

Air parcels have been limited to two pounds and a combined length and girth of 36 inches.

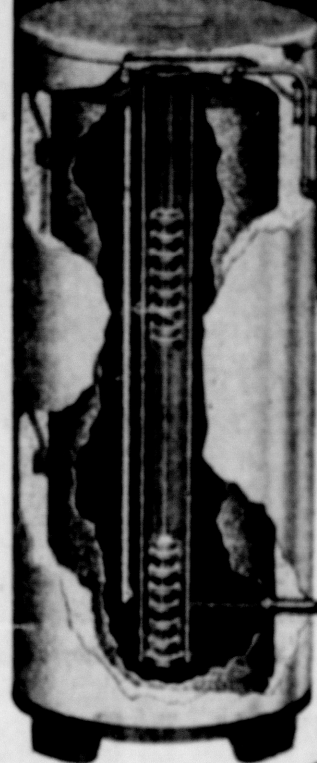

After June 30 such parcels for most overseas military post offices may weigh up to 70 pounds and have combined length and girth up to 100 inches.

However, parcels destined for military post offices located in certain countries will be limited to 36 pounds and 72 inches length and girth combined because of internal regulations in these countries which make such limitations necessary.

Questions about mailing conditions for specific military post offices can be answered by local postmasters.

HOLIDAY DEATHS IN STATE REACH 25 ON WEEKEND

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least 25 persons died accidentally in Pennsylvania during the three-day July 4 weekend. This compared with 41 deaths last July 4 and 14 in 1956.

The highway death toll was 11 with only one multiple-death accident. Nine people drowned, two were killed by trains, one by fire, one by electrocution, and one in a fall from a balcony when the railing gave way.

The weather was hot and humid for most of the holiday, but high-velocity conditions were complicated by a series of thunderstorms Sunday in many sections of the state.

Storm Lashes Area
Chester County was hardest hit when an electrical storm lashed a 10-mile area near Downingtown, causing some power failures and bringing down trees and limbs which halted traffic on main highways.

The balcony accident took the life of Daniel Garber, 76, a noted landscape artist. He was cutting ivy from the wall of his Lumberville home when the balcony railing gave way and he plunged nine feet to the ground.

Two migrant farm workers were killed Saturday night in McKean County in the only multiple-death accident. Their car and a tractor-trailer collided. The victims were Willie McCullough, 33, Coudersport R. 1, and Otis Mack, 34, Dothan, Ala.

Two people drowned in the Susquehanna River. One was Arthur Halligan, 19, Lancaster R. 7, who disappeared Saturday when his motorboat swamped near Lancaster. His body was recovered Sunday night near Long Level, York County. The river's other victim was Barry Bogey, 15, of Renovo, who drowned Friday near West Renovo.

Those who died in Sunday highway accidents include: Edward Twaedell, 21, Braddock, whose car hit a pole in Rankin.

Agnes Szarzynsky, 64, Jamaica, N.Y., whose station wagon and a tractor-trailer collided in Ambler.

Joseph Pruitt, 41, Braddock, who was hit by a Baltimore & Ohio train in Braddock.

Eleanor Ruela, 14, Berwick, who drowned in Fishing Creek, six miles west of Bloomsburg.

No Carelessness In Middletown Blast

WASHINGTON (AP)—A smashed detonation cap caused the Nike explosion at Middletown, N. J., May 22 that killed 10, says an army report.

After an exhaustive investigation, the army said the cap "ruptured" while a group of ordinance civilians and enlisted men were removing an old triggering device and replacing it with a more efficient model.

There was no evidence of carelessness or sabotage, the report concluded.

JUNE JOBLESS TOTAL JUMPED

HARRISBURG (AP)—College students unable to find summer jobs caused Pennsylvania unemployment figures to jump to 530,000, the bureau of employment security reports.

The June figure was considerably above the May figure of 473,000 and was nearly twice as much as the total for June of 1957.

However, the bureau emphasized in its report Friday that the increase in the number of jobless citizens did not truly reflect the state's economic climate.

Considering seasonal factors, the bureau said, the June figure is substantially the same as that of May.

Continued claims for unemployment compensation dropped to 292,000 for the week ended June 27. The bureau said it was the may have caused the accident has been corrected and eliminated," the report, issued Thursday, said.

Waynesboro Woman Burns To Death

WAYNESBORO, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Betty Beard Murdoff, 32, was burned to death early Friday in a fire which swept through her home here. She was alone in the house at the time.

The woman's body was found in the bathroom after firemen extinguished the fire in the 2½ story frame house.

Fire Chief Orlov Helm estimated the damage to the interior of the house at $6,200. The origin of the fire was undetermined.

smallest total for any week this year but still was considerably higher than last year.

Claims for new unemployment rose to 37,500 for the week—an increase of five per cent. The bureau attributed the increase to layoffs mostly in apparel, primary metals, leather, textile manufacturing and construction industries.

Rumors are often an effort by one person to destroy the popularity of another.

32,000 GET 1ST EXTRA CHECKS

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Bureau of Employment Security reports that more than 32,000 unemployed persons already are taking advantage of an extension of jobless benefits which went into effect late last month.

The first payments under the temporary plan were made last week. The bureau estimated Friday that the program probably would receive 1,800,000 claims for extended compensation before it expires next April.

The extension provides an additional 15 weeks of compensation payments of up to $35 per week for persons who have used up the regular 30 weeks of jobless benefits.

The federal government has advanced money to the state to finance the temporary payments. The bureau pointed out that benefits paid out under the program are not charged to the state unemployment compensation fund. The extension payments are expected to cost close to $5 million dollars.
